

CHOLERA CHECKED.

Better News Comes from the Infected Vessels.

ONLY ONE DEATH FROM CHOLERA

But Three New Cases and They Are on the Scandia, the Last Vessel to Arrive. Fire Island Purchased by the State for Quarantine Purposes.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Sunday was not eventful with news of many victims in the cholera fleet. There was only three deaths (one of these being a child on the Aurania) and three new cases among the passengers from the Scandia, taken to Swinburne Island. Only one death is from cholera. The transfer of the Normannia's cabin passengers from the Stonington to Fire Island, which was purchased by the state Saturday for quarantine purposes, the placing of the Rugia's passengers on Hoffman Island, and the arrival of the old frigate New Hampshire at the lower bay for use of the cabin passengers of such of the ships as may be determined, were the progressive features in the work of caring for the unfortunates.

The official report of the fatalities is as follows:

On the Scandia—Theo Olsen, three years old, died of cholera after two hours' illness; Marzina Burza, infant at the breast, who died of the affection of the glands of the bowels.

On the Aurania, at upper quarantine—Gladys Ramsey, ten years old, first cabin, died Saturday evening before the vessel reached port. The cause was acute tonsillitis. The child and her parents were returning to Baltimore, where Mr. Ramsey is one of the owners of the Moore line of steamers.

New cases on the Scandia were removed to Swinburne Island as follows: Marie Janowitz, two and one-half years; Anna Olsen, eight years; Malke Miskin, three years. The mother of the Janowitz child was also taken to the hospital as a "suspect," owing to the exposure.

Owing to the strong southern wind prevailing outside it was deemed unsafe to send the Stonington to Fire Island as it was feared she would prove unseaworthy. Accordingly Dr. Jenkins suggested the iron steamboat Cephus, and she was chartered by Dock Commissioner Crain, and at 11 o'clock she arrived at the upper station having on board the commissioner and the chamber of commerce relief committee headed by Seth Low. Accompanied by Dr. Jenkins, the Cephus proceeded to the hospital at Sandy Hook, where the cabin passengers of the Normannia, which have been on the Stonington since Saturday night, were taken on board. At 3:30 the Cephus started for Fire Island in the face of a strong sea.

After inspecting the progress of work at the refuge station at Sandy Hook, Dr. Jenkins turned his face homeward on the yacht Fra Diavolo, and at 5 o'clock, as he climbed the stairs of the bluff at the quarantine station, he promised news to the reporters in half an hour.

Just before 7 o'clock the following telegram to the governor was given out as the official review of the day's events: To Roswell P. Flower, Governor, Watertown, N. Y.:

Have possession of the island (Fire Island) and have transferred first and second cabin passengers of the Normannia and placed them on board of the iron steamboat Cephus at 3:30 this afternoon. They are now on their way to Fire Island. I am waiting a telegram announcing their arrival. I will keep you informed of my actions. I will be pleased to hear and act upon any suggestions you make to have matters in control and believe they will be successful in keeping out the disease, as we have been successful in stopping it on the Moravia and checking it on the Rugia and Normannia. The Scandia is being disinfected and the new cases are removed as fast as they develop. I have a competent staff and will employ physicians when the emergency demands it. I have accepted all assistance offered, both from local and national authorities.

The steamship Wyoming is not definitely infected with cholera, but will hold her until we are perfectly satisfied of her condition. The Stonington, offered by Mr. Morgan, was the cause of considerable complaint. The New Hampshire, given me on application to Secretary Tracy, is anchored in the lower quarantine this afternoon and will be used until we can complete the arrangements for the reception of passengers at Fire Island. I have placed a competent hotel man in charge of the Surf hotel and a competent physician to inspect and look after the passengers. Have also appointed thirty-five special policemen to patrol Fire Island. The committee from the chamber of commerce consulted upon me this afternoon with the waiting board of physicians appointed by them and said that Camp Low, at Sandy Hook, would be proffered to me as soon as completed for the reception of well people.

I shall also request and act upon any suggestions by the medical consulting committee appointed by the chamber of commerce.

W. T. JENKINS,
Health Officer.

At 9 p. m., it was rumored trouble was in store for the Normannia's cabin passengers on board the Cephus. Just before 10 o'clock Dr. Jenkins appeared in the boat house on the dock and read a telegram from Dr. Nelson, of the city health board, who was at Fire Island, saying that the Cephus could not land and had turned back.

When later Dr. Jenkins learned that the people at Babylon and vicinity had armed deputy sheriffs of Islip stationed on Fire Island to dispute the landing of the people on the Cephus the health officer was much agitated. He is now waiting advices from the Hook and then he will at once go down to see what can be done.

The position of the Normannia's people is not enviable. They wanted to be moved from the Hamburg liner, and hailed with joy Mr. Morgan's proffer, of the veteran Stonington, but when they had spent a night thereon they were not comfortable, after the palatial quarters on the Normannia.

Then the Cephus and an immediate transfer was decided upon by the health officer. Among the treacherous shoals of the Long Island shore, buffeted by the sea, kicked up by a strong southeast breeze and menaced by armed guards ashore they are in for a miserable time if not actually in peril of life should anything happen to the Cephus.

Governor Flower has wired he will come on at once. It is said the antagonism to the Fire Island project comes from the health boards of the towns adjacent, and Governor Flower has ordered Dr. Balch of the state board of health to take immediate action to allay their agitation.

OPEN REBELLION.

The Normannia Passengers Not Allowed to Land on Fire Island.

FIRE ISLAND, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Men from Islip, Babylon and other points on Long Island appear to have decided to prevent by force if necessary the landing of quarantined passengers. They defy the governor and the state health officers and claim that their "common rights" justify them in guarding Fire Island from intrusion by people who may be infected with cholera.

They intimidated the pilot so that he refused to bring in the Cephus and they threaten to burn the Surf hotel unless the attempt to use it for a quarantine station is abandoned. Twenty of the men have been sworn in as special constables and they have over one hundred assistants. The men admit that they are armed, and declare that they will not give way to New York policemen or any one else.

President Wilson, of the New York board of health, has placed reporters and others on guard at the hotel and telegraphed for assistance. Forty French cooks and waiters, who were sent down from the Hoffman House, were stopped at Babylon and stoned. They are not permitted to embark for Fire Island.

No Abatement in Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Sept. 11.—Expectations as to the abatement of the plague have not been realized in the last two days. On Saturday there were 810 fresh cases, or twenty-one more than on Friday, and 257 deaths, or eleven more than on Friday. Yesterday there were 795 fresh cases, or twelve less than Saturday and 281 deaths, or twenty-four more than Saturday.

The number of persons in cholera hospitals and barracks on Saturday was 8,124 and yesterday was 3,230. A city physician says that the average rate of mortality has been two cases in every five.

Today official statistics for the whole plague will be given out by the municipal government. There is much curiosity to know whether the sanitary officials have chosen to acknowledge that they have published falsehoods or to keep on publishing falsehoods.

VENEZUELAN NEWS.

Still Fighting—Fifteen Hundred Men Killed in One Battle.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—A cable to the Herald from Curacao, says news has been received from Venezuela up to Sept. 8.

Martin Vegas, in command of Crespo's forces outside of Caracas, was again surprised the night before and was driven back into Petore in confusion.

Leon Collins was seriously wounded in the battle at Lafel. Fifteen hundred men were killed in the battle. The states of Falcon, Lara, Carabobo and Zamora are now completely in the hands of Crespo's lieutenants.

Mendoza issued a proclamation on Sept. 1, declaring Ciudad Bolivar and Puerto Cabello closed to foreign commerce, and that all cargoes for the entire republic must be unloaded at La Guayra.

The Legalists on Sept. 8 were at Carayaco 800 strong and were believed to be planning a night attack on La Guayra.

Domingo Monagas has arrived here and denounces Mendoza's dictatorship.

Crespo has arrived at Victoria from Valencia with forty-three battalions.

A WIDOW'S CRIME.

She Suffocates Her Daughter and Dies at the Same Time.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Mrs. Cora Targetta, a widow aged thirty years, and her daughter Ethel, aged eleven, were found dead in bed at 3 o'clock Sunday morning at 2009 Mervine street by Mr. Alexander, from whom they rented their room. Four gas burners were turned on at full head, and the room was tightly closed to prevent the gas escaping. They retired at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night.

The mother was a proof reader at The Times printing house until two weeks ago, when she resigned to take a rest. She had been a long sufferer from neuralgia, and it is supposed became insane through despondency in imagining she had brain trouble. It was believed Mrs. Targetta turned on the gas after the daughter was asleep. She was in comfortable circumstances, having been left a snug income by her husband, who died eight years ago.

Homestead Strikers Boycott a School.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Sept. 12.—As a result of the feeling among strikers here, parents have withdrawn all their children from the school house on the hill formerly used as General Snowden's headquarters, because six non-union children go to school there. The teachers had been engaged in anticipation that there would be at least fifty pupils, but now one is too many. The company expects to fill the school, however, as soon as all the families who are preparing to move into the company's houses have done so.

FIVE MINUTES LATE.

Such Was a Passenger Train on the Fitchburg Railroad.

DISASTROUS WRECK OCCURS.

Six Persons Killed Outright and Nearly Forty Injured, Three of Whom Have Since Died—List of the Victims—Details of the Disaster.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—The horror of the great Quincy accident was recalled Saturday night when a through freight express train, westbound on the Fitchburg railroad, ran into a passenger train standing on the outbound track at West Cambridge junction, telescoping the rear car, killing six persons outright and injuring nearly forty others, three of whom are reported to have since died. Passenger train 131, due to leave Boston at 10:15, started on time. When West Cambridge junction was reached the engineer found it necessary, owing to the dense fog, to run close to the crossovers in order to see if he had the right of way from the signal tower, which is located close by.

The passenger train was said to be five minutes late and about the same hour the local passenger train from Waltham, scheduled to leave there at 10:30, was due at West Cambridge junction also. The westbound train, which left Boston, had come to a full stop in order that the eastbound train from Waltham, which had the right of way, could pass that point before it crossed over to the Watertown branch. While standing near the crossover the express freight train, which was bound west, came thundering along, and just as the passenger train started to cross to the Watertown branch, the freight train crashed into the rear of the passenger train with the result above described.

The passenger train engine and the forward truck of the smoking car had crossed over on the branch track which left two passenger cars on the crossover and another car standing on the main westbound track. When the engine struck the rear car it entered like a wedge splitting it into two parts each of which fell outward on the tracks while the roof of the car lodged on top of the locomotive. The recoil from the collision drove the heavily loaded freight cars backward and although the two cars nearest the engine which were a refrigerator car and a Burton stock car were not injured, the ten or twelve cars behind them were smashed into kindling wood. Several of them were loaded with lumber and this was strewn all along the track. The cars were piled up on one another in indescribable confusion, completely blocking both tracks for fully one hundred yards.

As soon as the accident occurred word was dispatched by telephone to the various police stations in Boston, Somerville and Cambridge asking them to send surgeons to the scene. By 10 o'clock Sunday morning all the bodies had been removed from the wreck, and the wounded had been cared for by willing hands. The pilot and cylinder boxes of the freight engine were poked underneath the forward truck of the rear passenger car, which made it almost impossible for any human being to escape without injury who occupied seats in that car. On the rear end of the ill-fated cars a man's legs were dangling, the trunk being found a quarter of a mile down the track. The prevailing impression was that it was a tramp stealing a ride on the pilot of the freight engine or tucked away on the rear truck of the passenger car.

The rear brakeman of the passenger train who shortly before the accident was sent back about 600 feet to notify the engineer of the freight train of the danger ahead states that he went back as directed and signalled the freight train and his signal was answered by two whistles, which is the usual answer that all signals have been seen and noted. The reason for the collision, he feels sure, was that the engineer of the freight train could not control his train which was of thirty cars, the greater part of them containing lumber, all very heavy. The train was the regular Saturday night western heavy freight which was unusually heavy that night. The train is scheduled to leave Boston about 8 o'clock, but Saturday night did not leave until after 10 and was running at the rate of about twenty miles an hour when the collision occurred.

Engineer Goodwin, of the freight train, is in the Cambridge hospital, suffering from a bad shaking up, but is not seriously injured.

The following is a complete list of the killed:

A METEOR'S FLIGHT.

A Blazing Ball of Blue Fire Sweeps Through the Night.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—One of the brightest and largest meteors ever seen in this vicinity sped across the northern sky at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. It was pear-shaped, and in its greatest apparent diameter was about half of that of the moon. The course of the meteor described very near a great circle, through the zenith and the north star and a little more than half way from the horizon to the polaris. Thence its path was eastward and downward at an angle to the horizon of about 60 degrees.

Apart from its size the meteor was most brilliant. It had a distinct nucleus of dazzling white, oblong in shape, traveling on its lateral axis. The latter was a bluish ball of color, mostly a deep blue, with a deep orange border. On the outside was a yellowish film, but gradually thickening backward until it made up most of the tail. There was a triangular dark space directly behind the center of the nucleus at the base of the conical tail.

BABY'S WONDERFUL LUCK.

A Child Falls from a Rapidly Moving Train and Escapes Death.

PENNSYLVANIA, O., Sept. 12.—Train No. 5 on the Big Four, due at this place at 4:30 Saturday evening, had a sensation aboard. Mrs. Lewis Nosak and her eighteen-months-old child, of St. Louis, had been visiting at Cleveland and were returning home. The child climbed up to the open car window and fell out.

The train was running at a fast rate—forty miles per hour—and the infant was supposed to have been dashed to death. The train was stopped and backed up. Instead of the frantic mother finding her babe a mass of bruised flesh the little one was found sitting on a pile of loose gravel crying for "mama" uninjured, except a bruise on the forehead.

ELECTRIC CAR ACCIDENT.

One Man Killed and Several Others Badly Injured.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 12.—In a collision of electric cars on the east end line last night one man was killed and three other people badly injured.

The dead man was taken to the morgue and has not yet been identified, but is supposed to be a brewer by the name of Charles Walker.

Joe Annan, a messenger boy, was badly bruised about the back.

Charles Byer, a farmer from Clermont county, was also badly injured.

Martin Burke, of the East End, was seriously injured.

Several others were slightly wounded.

The cause of the accident was due to one car jumping the track and running into the approaching one.

Trains Delayed by a Landslide.

WABASH, Ind., Sept. 12.—Saturday night several hundred tons of rock, loosened by heavy blasts, started down the high bluff at the Big Four railroad yards and completely buried the track. Two coal cars on a siding were crushed beneath the great mass, and Jake Patterson, who had taken refuge beneath one of the cars, was badly mangled and cut. Passenger train No. 23 could not get by the landslide, and baggage and passengers were transferred.

Battle With Burglars.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 12.—Several attempts have been made to enter the home of Pandolph Williams. Thursday night a pitched battle occurred between the family and the burglars, a dozen shots being fired. No clew.

DEFIANT CHINESE.

They Will Not Obey the Geary Registration Law.

THE GOVERNMENT APPEALED TO

A Proclamation Issued by the Six Companies of San Francisco—Chinamen That Obey the Law Will Be Disowned, and a Passport to Return to Their Native Country Refused.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—The officers of the Chinese Six companies have issued a proclamation calling upon all Chinamen in the United States to defy the Geary law and refuse to register. They also demand a contribution of $1 from each Chinaman in the United States toward a fund to be used in testing the constitutionality of the act. They threaten to disown all Chinamen who register, and will refuse them passes back to China in case they wish to return. They have also appealed to the Chinese government for aid against the law they call unjust.

The Evening Bulletin editorially commenting on the refusal of the Chinese to register, says:

"There seems to be a very good prospect at this time of getting rid of a large number of Chinese in this country. The members of the Six companies, as they call themselves, have published a proclamation forbidding them to register as the law requires. If they refuse to obey the law they will be shipped out of this country by the wholesale when the time expires. Upon that fact they may all reckon with considerable certainty. The law and the arrogance of the Six companies will help the matter along. By the proclamation they threaten any Chinaman who disobeys and attempts to go that they will not give him a pass to leave the country when he wants to do so. We have here a glimpse of that 'Imperium in imperio,' which has been so often denied. Whence do these companies derive the power to prevent people leaving this country?"

Attorney Thomas Riordan, of this city, who has been engaged by the Six companies to attack the registration act in the courts, said: "The act defeats itself. Any lawyer can tell you that a coach could be driven through it."

"But there were a number of prominent lawyers in the congress that passed it."

"So there were, but they did not apparently step to consider the legal aspect of the bill. The thing was rushed through with a saving provision that if it is not constitutional, the courts will knock it out. The act is clearly unconstitutional."

THREATEN TO STRIKE.

Columbus Street Car Employees Dissatisfied, and More Trouble Imminent.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 12.—The street car employees are again showing signs of dissatisfaction, and it would create no surprise if another strike would break out. The most recent difficulty was occasioned by the discharge of Conductor Thompson, who has been receiving of late a number of shertage slips, ranging from $1 to $3. He felt that he had not made any mistakes in counting his money, and upon several occasions had others witness the amount he turned in.

He at length began to regard the frequency and size of these discrepancies as incredible, and attempted to argue the matter, when he was summarily discharged. Other employees have had shortage slips given them, and they are beginning to feel that they are not being justly treated. A meeting was held at a committee appointed to wait upon the company for an understanding, and to ask for Thompson's reinstatement. If the conference is not satisfactory other measures will be taken by the men.

A Receiver Wanted.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 12.—Oliver C. Clark, secretary of the Springfield Machine company, made application Saturday afternoon for the appointment of a receiver of the company. In his petition he recites that he became surety for a large amount for the company, consisting of notes now due and payable as follows: Lagonda National bank, $1,000; Springfield National bank, $6,250; Mad River National bank, $800; A. H. Smith, $2,000. He states that the company is very largely indebted, and will be unable to meet its indebtedness with its assets.

Lost on Races and Stole Diamonds.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 12.—Saturday night about 9 o'clock, when the streets were crowded with promenaders, a fairly well dressed young man, a stranger who has been attending the races and betting on the losing horses, smashed the heavy plate glass window of Hallett's jewelry store with a brick, grabbed a tray of diamond rings valued at $1,100, and sped up an alley. A clerk and an officer started in pursuit, but the robber outdistanced them. Several shots were fired at the fugitive by the policeman, but none of them took effect.

Must the Newshy Go?

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 12.—A company for the manufacture of the novel machine known as the automatic newspaper seller has just been organized at Alliance, O. The machine is a nickel-in-the-slot arrangement which serves the patron with a newspaper and returns proper change. It is said to be a perfect success and the new company expects it to crowd out newshyos.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Sept. 12.—Further investigation shows that Millard Vandegriff, the old man killed by the cars at Fern Friday and not Mr. Vansant, as given, was a member of Company K, of the Eleventh Indiana regiment. He had been granted leave of absence from the soldiers' home, at Topeka, Kan., and was on his way back when struck by the train. He was about sixty years old.

The "Kangaroo" will figure for the first time in a Maine election to-day.

TAMMANY adopted resolutions last week pledging "our untiring efforts to the election of Grover Cleveland to the Presidency and of Adlai Stevenson to the Vice Presidency of the United States."

The grand opening of the Republican campaign in Ohio Saturday at Wooddale was a failure in point of attendance. Even the Commercial Gazette admits this. They expected 25,000 people, but the C. G. says only 2,500 turned out to hear the Republican nominee for Vice President.

The State election in Maine comes off to-day. The Republicans up there must have been scared up somewhat, as they distributed 50,000 copies of Blaine's recent letter last week. They don't seem to regard Mr. Harrison's letter of acceptance as much of a campaign document in Maine.

COLORADO and Nevada Republicans are badly split over the money question. Two-thirds of the delegates to the recent State convention in Nevada marched out and refused to support electors favorable to Harrison because of his position on the silver. The disaffection in Colorado is just as great. The Democrats of Colorado are in revolt against Cleveland, but that doesn't matter much, as the State is counted in the Republican column, or has been heretofore. The Republicans have more at stake out there than the Democrats.

An Alarming Spectacle.

The press of Brown County is making war on the Gretna Green marriages, and the prospects are that the illegal practice which has been in operation for almost a century will be broken up. It is certainly an alarming spectacle when a man who serves in no official capacity assumes the power to marry runaways without license or any authority whatever, as is being done now at Aberdeen by Harrison Bradford, who is trying to assume the mantle of 'Squire Beasley. Let the practice be broken up.—West Union Defender.

Uncalled For School Fund.

The Attorney General, at the request of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, has rendered an opinion upon the construction of the provisions of the new Constitution relating to the public school fund remaining uncalled for by the counties. The opinion is that the pro rata share of any school district not called for the year ended June 30, 1892, would remain to the credit of that district until June 30, 1893, and, if not called for by that time, would then, in the language of the Constitution, "be covered into the Treasury and be placed to the credit of the school fund for general apportionment the following school year."

The opinion concludes: "County Superintendents can not retain such surplus or add it to fund of the following year for that district, but must forward it to the State Treasury, where it shall remain to the credit of the district until after the second school year in which it originated."

The songs and merry jests of Charles A. Gardner rub out the wrinkles from the brow of care and beguile the heavy heart of sorrow.

Stood by Their State.

The Maysville band manifested its State loyalty by patronizing the Brown ferryboat on the occasion of their late visit. They held coupons that would have transported them free on the C. and O. ferry, but they preferred to pay their way and cross on the boat of their Kentucky friend, Captain Brown. The crowd on this side was waiting for them, and supposing of course they would cross on the C. and O. ferry boat were disappointed when the boat landed and musicians were found not to be aboard, and thought they were not coming. Soon the sweet tones of "Old Kentucky Home" were heard on the Kentucky side as the Susie Brown left the bank. Before the boat had reached mid-stream a steamboat, whose pilot had no music in his soul, began whistling and drowned the music of the band. Captain Brown determined to give the band a chance, returned to the Kentucky shore with his boat and took a fresh start.—Portsmouth Times.

A Darkened Home.

The Angel of Death visited one of Maysville's happiest homes yesterday morning, and left it wrapped in sadness and sorrow. The loving young wife and mother was called, and the husband and little daughter left behind have the sincere sympathy of the community in the loss they have sustained.

Mrs. Ethel Owens, wife of Dr. C. C. Owens, died at twenty minutes past 8 o'clock Sunday at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson. She was born February 12, 1871, and was twenty-one years and seven months of age. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock at the Church of the Nativity, services by the rector, Rev. D. D. Chapin. Friends of the family invited.

Happy Hoosiers.

Wm. Timmons, Postmaster, of Idaville Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from kidney and liver trouble." John Leslie, a farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best kidney and liver medicine; made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, and good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50 cents a bottle, at J. James Wood's."

THE DEAD TIGER TAMER.

His Remains Interred at the Cemetery Queer Actions of a Man Claiming to Be His Father.

The remains of Geo. W. Foulz, who died from wounds inflicted by one of Sells Brother's big tigers, were interred Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at the cemetery. A man giving the name of W. C. Jones and hailing from Columbus, O., arrived Saturday on the 10 o'clock train, and looked after the burial. He claimed to be the father of Foulz, but did not look to be much older than the dead man. His actions and talk created the impression that there was something connected with the deceased that he wished to keep concealed.

It turns out that Foulz was a married man, and leaves two children. His wife Minnie Foulz sued for divorce a few days ago at Cincinnati on ground of desertion. Jones first stated that Foulz's wife lived in New York. He did not put up at any hotel, did not eat a meal while here, and was in such a hurry to get out of town that he boarded a C. and O. freight for Cincinnati as soon as he returned from the cemetery.

It can hardly ever be wise in a government to attempt to give a direction to the industry of its citizens. This, under the quick-sighted guidance of private interest, will, if left to itself, infallibly find its own way to the most profitable employment, and it is by such employment that the public prosperity will be most effectually promoted. To leave industry to itself, therefore, is in almost every case the soundest as well as the simplest policy.—Alexander Hamilton.

THE Grand Representatives of the Independent Order of Oddfellows for Kentucky left Friday evening to attend the sixty-eighth annual communication of the Sovereign Grand Lodge in Portland, Ore., beginning September 18. Two Italian tramps passed through Maysville a few days ago with a couple of bears. At Paris, one of the animals got hold of a little colored boy, and started in to make a square meal of him. The boy's curiosity got him into the trouble by leading him too close to the bear. Luckily the animal was muzzled, but he tried his best to seize the boy's throat, and matters looked serious for a time. Finally, the Italians beat the bear off, and the boy lit out for home at a Nancy Hanks gait.

The Slack-Wheeler Nuptials.

In its account of the marriage of Mr. Charles Slack, of Bristol, Tenn., and Mrs. Elizabeth Wadsworth, of this city, last week, the Daily News of that place says: "Charlie Slack was born and raised right in the shadow of Bristol, so to speak, and is well-known wherever a Bristol Courier is read, and of course in many other places, for the Virginia and Tennessee press speaks of him whenever he makes a move.

"Mr. Slack has made an enviable record as a paragraphist and editorial writer. In fact, with an exception now and then, he is an all-round newspaper man, and will ere long constitute one of the gems which go to form the diadem of Southern journalists.

CAMPAIGN OPENED.

Republicans in Ohio Start the Ball Rolling Near Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 12.—The Ohio League of Republican clubs opened the state political campaign Saturday at Woodsdale Island park. The island, or more properly grove, is a beautiful place, near the city of Hamilton, used by the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad for picnic grounds. It has all the accommodations for a great assemblage of people, and is well adapted for outdoor speaking.

Hon. Whitelaw Reid, the Republican candidate for vice president, was the star attraction, with a number of other prominent Republican speakers.

Mr. Reid's speech was short, but to the point, and was delivered in the clear, forcible manner that is natural to him. He opened his remarks by saying that the contest in Ohio had been opened in the old Ohio way, by recruiting the ranks with the youthful intelligence and vigor of the new generation that is coming forward. He said that when that was done and the enemy's territory was invaded it could have but one ending in Ohio.

He spoke of Butler county, in which the meeting was held, as the stronghold of the Ohio Democracy. He also referred to the illustrious men of Ohio who were Republicans. Then, in reference to Miami College, in which Butler county as well as Ohio and the west take pride, he mentioned distinguished men who were students there, ending the list with the name of Benjamin Harrison.

In reference to the assertion, which he declared Democrats made, that President Harrison was a cold man, he said that it quite "suits the people to have a president who does not gush, does not stop over, doesn't play demagogue, doesn't pretend to be the bosom friend of every man he meets, but who bears himself with the modest simplicity of a private citizen, and yet with the dignity and the decorum of the great statesman to which they have elevated him."

Mr. Reid then praised the president's administration as being "cautious, safe, judicious, prompt, fearless, impartially just." He also praised the Republican party for what it had done for the country in maturing, enforcing and vindicating a protective tariff. He also referred to reciprocity and the benefits he said it had brought.

In closing Mr. Reid referred to the fact that the day was the eightieth anniversary of Commodore Perry's victory on Lake Erie, the result of which he sent to General William Henry Harrison the commander of the American forces. Governor McKinley followed in a tariff speech.

Mrs. Ellen Foster, of Iowa, followed in a witty address which hadn't much politics in it. Congressman H. Clay Evans, of Tennessee, succeeded Mrs. Foster on the stand. His speech was a rapid arraignment of southern election methods largely. Hon. R. C. Thackeray, of Maryland, next spoke on the political issues of the day. General Turner, of Tennessee, was the next speaker. Ex-Governor Foraker followed in a brief address, and a short speech by W. H. Parham, of this city concluded the exercises.

CAUGHT AND CONDENSED.

Cincinnati citizens are making extensive arrangements for observing Columbus Day, Oct. 21 and 22. A royal fleet on the Ohio river, the landing of Columbus on the Kentucky shore and a return to the city where a reception will be held are some of the features.

Perry, Converse & Company, leather dealers, 13 and 15 South street, Boston, has made an assignment to Everett G. Place, of Everett G. Place & Company, and Henry P. Stanwood, treasurer of the Redding Electric Company. The liabilities are probably from $75,000 to $100,000. The assets are not known. Dull times are said to have caused the failure.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Walter E. Scott was locked up at the armory Saturday night on charges of conspiracy to defraud. It is alleged that he, with several others who have not yet been apprehended, induced Thomas E. Walcott, of Evanston, Ill., to invest in a silver mine in Mexico, which, it is claimed, was not on a good paying basis. It is said that the amount involved was in the neighborhood of $10,000.

Murder or Accident?

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Sept. 12.—At Rockwood, across the river, John Neal, a merchant, shot Lewis Eaton, a customer, with a 48-caliber revolver, the ball passing through the right eye and out through the forehead. Neal claims that the shooting was accidental. Eaton's wound is fatal.

Chinese and the Telephone.

According to a telephone authority, the easiest language for telephoning is Chinese. It is principally monosyllables, and is made up of simple rising and falling inflections. German, it seems, is not as bad a language for telephoning as might be thought. French is not bad, but it is almost as sibilant as English.—Yankee Blade.

The Prevention of Smoke.

The latest system of smoke prevention involves the use of the combined apparatus of two inventors. One invention consists of fire clay arches through which the combined air and gases are passed, and which, becoming incandescent, cause the smoke to be consumed. The other principle is the induction of a low pressure current of air by means of steam jets, and the two devices combined give a very good result, more especially when applied to steam boilers.—New York Telegram.

When it was proposed to build the Central Pacific railroad, a civil engineer of twenty-five years' experience reported that the road could not be completed in twenty years with all the money of the Bank of England to back the enterprise. But it was built and completed seven years before the expiration of the time fixed by congress.
